COMMITTEE ON UNDERGRADUATE STUDIES AND ADVISING
Minutes of the Meeting for November 22, 2005

The committee met on Tuesday, November 22, 2005, at 11:07 a.m. in Room 210 Strong Hall. The following were present: Bayer, Carothers, Clowes, Crandall, Crosby, D’Aneri, Gordy, Johnson (visitor), Karpowitz, Knight, LaFever, McCleary, McNeley, Steele, Wallace, Walton and Vitevitch.

Minutes The minutes for November 08, 2005 were approved.

Visitor Report Professor Johnson of the English Department highlighted the goals of English 101/102 and 203-211. Professor Johnson expressed concerns about how the reduction of the general education requirements being proposed by CUSA. If CUSA approves he suggested that we keep the 200 level courses as options and not requirements. He encouraged the committee to review closely other institutions as models for KU. Many suggestions were given as to how the English department could reduce the general education requirement and still reinforce the writing skills across the curriculum. Currently, English 101, a Rhetoric Based Course with 4000 words, 3 formal papers, 2 conferences with each student required and English 102 requires 3500 word writing/14 pages (see attachments).

Chair’s Report Dr. Clowes announced that Debra Ford of the Communications Studies Department will be attending the CUSA meeting scheduled for December 13, 2005. Additionally, Dr. Teresa Robinson from the Philosophy Department will be attending the CUSA meeting for January 24, 2005.

Dean’s Office Reports Dr. D’Aneri highlighted the comparisons of General Education Requirements Report. Dr. Clowes pointed out that the upper level hours for KU should be 45 and the total General Education hours for Foreign Languages should be 75.

CLAS Student Academic Services Reports Dr. McNeley presented a grey petition for the CUSA members to review. The members denied the petition.

Subcommittee Chair Reports Dr. McCleary reported that he has been working with Dr. McNeley regarding the NCAA issue which addresses broader ideas from the Freshman/Sophomore Advising Center. He announced that the committee should be pleased with the results.

Goals for English 101

By the end of English 101, students should be able to do the following:

Write appropriately for a variety of writing tasks:
- Recognize differences (including differences of purpose, audience, genre, and conventions) in writing tasks and respond appropriately to those different tasks
- Use conventions of format, structure, and language appropriate to the purpose of the texts they write
- Adopt appropriate voice, tone, and level of formality
- Use writing and reading for inquiry, thinking, learning, and communicating.

Revise to improve their own writing:
- Develop their ideas through interaction with other writers and readers
- Critique their own writing and revise that writing to improve global (focus, development, organization) as well as local (style, diction) qualities
- Develop strategies for editing and proofreading their own writing
- Give and get critical responses to writing, and use revision suggestions appropriately to improve their own writing.

Produce formal academic writing that meets expectations:
- Focus on unifying idea
- Address an assigned topic and their response to it with complexity
- Develop an idea appropriately using academic sources interacting with their own thinking
- Adopt a voice, tone, and level of formality appropriate for academic writing
- Document appropriately the knowledge they incorporate into their texts
- Control such surface features as syntax, grammar, punctuation, and spelling
Goals for English 102

By the end of English 102, students should be able to:

Maintain and continue to improve the abilities gained in English 101

Critical Thinking, Reading and Writing:
- Use writing and reading for inquiry, thinking, learning, and communicating
- Analyze and synthesize multiple points of view
- Work with demanding readings and learn to interpret, incorporate, and evaluate these readings
- Engage in a variety of research methods to study and explore topics, including possibilities such as fieldwork as well as library and Internet research
- Analyze differing perspectives (ideological, social, cultural, political, economic, historical) on issues so as to understand that multiple perspectives of an issue are in operation at the same time.

Processes:
- Use writing as a problem-solving process that fosters the discovery, analysis, and synthesis of new ideas
- Propose, plan, and undertake research projects that involve a number of writing activities
- Engage in collaborative work at a variety of levels (research, inventions, writing, etc.) to prepare students for team/group situations, communications in the workplace, and lifelong learning.

Conventions:
- Recognize differences (including differences of strategies for conveying information, for researching information, and for evaluating and analyzing information) in discourse communities and respond appropriately to those differences
- Analyze what audiences' expectations about conventions are and address them in critical ways
- Effectively integrate a variety of sources into their writings
- Learn and use at least one system of documentation responsibly
