C. Academic Standards

VI. Old Business

A. Continued discussion of two-component BGS and Admissions to Majors proposal (see Attachment 1)

VII. New Business
This document was circulated among CUSA members over the winter break. Changes to the document are noted in red. At least one CUSA member felt that we should discuss some of the issues listed at the end of the document, seek feedback from members of our departments, and then return to the second CUSA meeting ready for a final discussion and a vote.

At the beginning of the fall semester, CUSA was asked to consider interrelated proposals to address the following issues:

- KU would like to offer distance education non-major BGS degrees to students graduating from Kansas community colleges who are unable to move to Lawrence.
- KU would like to offer distance education non-major BGS degrees to students attending the Edwards campus who have a limited number of majors from which to choose.
- Some students are unable to gain admission to their desired major because of major admissions criteria imposed by six departments.
  - Some of these students struggle to find a new major that meets their needs and within which they can obtain a graduating GPA (≥ 2.0 in junior/senior level coursework).
  - Pursing a different major may decrease the probability of graduating in four years. This will become a more acute issue when tuition compact students are trying to graduate but cannot.
- There may be merits to imposing major admission criteria and more departments would like to use them.
- Selective admissions allow the department to clearly communicate to students the skills necessary to succeed in the major, and the department’s minimum standards of achievement in the core classes in which these skills are taught.
- In fairness to departments, all departments/units should be allowed to impose admissions criteria if they believe these will help students to select a major in which they will succeed.
  - There is a perception among some students that departments without admissions requirements are lesser majors.
  - Departments not allowed to impose an admission standard may change their major course requirements in a manner designed to decrease the wide appeal of the major.

Proposal: Add a second non-major degree track to the existing BGS degree
AND
Allow all departments in CLAS to enforce admissions criteria to their major

Component 1: Add a second non-major degree track to the BGS
- No change to existing BGS degree in which students may complete a major and are required to complete a minor or a second major.
- Proposal is to add the following non-major degree track to the BGS
  - Non-Major Track Degree Requirements
    - 124 credit hours, 45 of which are numbered 300+
    - Common Degree Requirements (unchanged 27 hrs)
      - English (3 courses)
      - Argument & Reason (1 course)
      - Mathematics (2 courses)
      - Western Civilization (2 courses)
      - Non-western Culture (1 course)
    - Principal Course Requirements (at least 18 hrs – same as existing BGS degree track)
      - Humanities (2 courses, at least 3 credit hrs each)
        - Each course must come from a different category: HT, HL, or HR
- Natural Sciences & Mathematics (2 courses, at least 3 credit hrs each)
  - Each course must come from a different category: NB, NE, NM, or NP
- Social & Behavioral Sciences (2 courses, at least 3 credit hrs each)
  - Each course must come from a different category: SC, SI, or SF

- World Language/Culture Requirement
  - Two courses (each 3 credit hrs or higher) in a single world language (Amharic–Yiddish, see Undergraduate Catalog, page 55)
  - OR
  - In addition to the Common Degree Requirements (above) the student must complete three courses (each 3 credit hrs or higher) in world or non-western culture (W or NW designated courses)

- Breadth Requirement (as many hours as required to reach 124 credit hrs)
  - At least 2 credit hours of coursework completed in 15 different departments/programs within CLAS (as determined by course prefix)
  - All of the course requirements listed above count toward the breadth requirement.

Supplemental Information:
- After students complete 60 credit hours and have not yet obtained admission to a major, an advising hold will be placed on their registration. To lift this hold the student will be required to meet with a non-major BGS advisor every semester until the student either declares a major or declares the non-major BGS option. The advisor will work with the student to find an appropriate major or to consider completing a non-major BGS degree. Students will be counseled that this degree is likely to be a terminal degree which may be perceived as having less prestige than a BA, BS, or major/minor BGS. Should the non-major BGS degree be selected, the advisor will help the student to craft their diversified coursework to best prepare them for employment upon graduation.

Component 2: Allow all departments in CLAS to enforce admissions criteria to their major.
- Allow all departments/units wishing to do so to propose a set of criteria for admission to their major. CUSA would approve these individually and bring them to CAC for approval.
- Majors currently enforcing admissions criteria must obtain approval from CUSA by the beginning of the fall/spring semester after this proposal is approved (lest they lapse and open enrollment ensue).
- CUSA suggests the following criteria (deviations from this criteria must be accompanied by a rationale):
  - Department may use a cumulative GPA achieved in up to three courses that the department identifies as teaching the core skills required to succeed in the major. These courses should not have more than one prerequisite course.
    - If one of these courses is taught by another department, that course should be a prerequisite for one of the “core skills” courses.
  - Departments may require that students achieve at least a 2.5 criterion GPA in these identified courses.
    - KU’s course repeat policy applies to the calculation of this criterion GPA.
      - A repeat is possible if the student earned a D or F in a course numbered 000-299 (no repeats for cases of academic misconduct).
      - Only the final grade is used in calculating the criterion GPA.
      - No more than 5 grade replacements may be used for all courses taken at KU.
  - Students meeting departmental admissions requirements prior to attending KU (e.g., transfer coursework, proficiency exam score) may be admitted to the major by petition with department approval.
  - Departments may not base admissions decisions on overall GPA.
Selective admissions criteria would be enforced only for those students admitted to KU in the semester following approval from CUSA and CAC.

Item for Further Consideration (from your e-mail input):

- Non-major BGS Component:
  - Will students be able to contact 15 different departments and complete 45 junior/senior hours if they are unable to enroll in upper-division classes to which majors have first access?

- Major Admissions:
  - Does CUSA/CAC have the authority to revoke existing major admissions criteria?
  - On the item regarding meeting admissions criteria via other channels (i.e., proficiency exam, classes completed elsewhere) -- are there legal implications here that would suggest we need to be careful in how we express intent with this item?
  - What is the foundation from which CUSA will base its evaluation of “deviations” from suggested guidelines?
  - It seems there is legitimacy in understanding why certain departments requested the admissions criteria they currently implement -- I do think it would be useful and insightful for our CUSA deliberations to hear from those departments so we can understand what prompted the admissions criteria in the first place and the potential affect a change in criteria might impose.
  - Can we discuss the final proposal (particularly the major admissions component) with our colleagues before send it to CAC?
COMMITTEE ON UNDERGRADUATE STUDIES AND ADVISING
Minutes of the Meeting for December 9, 2008

The committee met on Tuesday, December 9, 2008, at 11:00 a.m. in Room 210 Strong Hall. The following were present: Banwart, Blackmore, Bradley, Burright, Crosby, Cudd, Dickey, Dozier, Earnhart, Kuczera, Madden, Manning, Mielke, Mort, Roberts, Tucker

MINUTES A motion was made and seconded to approve the November 25, 2008 minutes of the Committee on Undergraduate Studies & Advising with no corrections. The motion was approved unanimously.

CHAIR'S REPORT Professor Madden deferred the Chair’s report to discussion of Old Business.

DEAN'S REPORT Associate Dean Cudd deferred the Dean’s report to discussion of Old Business.

CLA&S STUDENT ACADEMIC SERVICES REPORT No report.

SUBCOMMITTEE CHAIR REPORTS

A. ADVISING & AWARDS – No report.

B. CURRICULAR CHANGES/DEGREE REQUIREMENTS:

1a. Curricular Changes for Approval:
   AAAS 568, ANTH 568, ATMO 310, GERM 344, GERM 348, HIST 390, HA 100, HA 300, REL 107, REL 109

   Assoc. Professor Mort recommended approval of the above curricular changes, with the exception of ATMO 310 until the CUSA committee had discussed that course. Prof. Madden first asked for clarification about the HIST 390 topics course, and confirmed that HIST 390 is intended for undergraduate students and the currently-offered HIST 510 topics course is intended for graduate students. With that clarification, a motion was made and seconded to approve all curricular changes except ATMO 310.

   Assoc. Professor Mort resumed the discussion by noting the Curricular Changes/Degree Requirements Subcommittee had requested input concerning ATMO 310 because it is the first of the online courses the College will be offering and the Subcommittee hoped for insight from the Dean’s Office about how many courses the College is planning to offer online and wanted to raise, in particular, the issue of prerequisites. For example, one of the prerequisites for ATMO 310 is offered online, but one is not, and the online prerequisite course is offered through KUCE, not through the College. The Subcommittee requested the College’s stance on this issue, since more questions concerning prerequisites may well arise as additional online courses are offered.

   Assoc. Professor Tucker stated that she plans to be the instructor for ATMO 310. Assoc. Dean Cudd explained that incentives are being given to instructors to develop these courses, as they are necessary to compete with online courses currently available elsewhere. She added that KU online courses will be a good way to serve students in Western Kansas, unless there were prerequisites that might be unavailable to those students.

   Additional discussion covered how online courses will affect the overall degree, if there are any long-term expectations about how many of these online courses will be offered through the College, how many students will be taking them along with courses on campus, and what the implications may be in terms of graduation. Assoc. Dean Cudd responded that the College is hoping for approximately 20 online course for next year, to begin, and noted a lot of course content is already provided online, so there is a continuum between in-class and online courses. Regarding implications in terms of the degrees, the CUSA committee will be involved in determining those.

   Other discussion ensued about online courses listed in the Timetable like on-campus courses, but with a designation that they are online courses, whether or not the online courses will follow the same semester timeframe as in-class courses, and the coding in the Timetable for these courses
Professor Madden responded to the question concerning how much course work could be taken online, and said as long as the online courses are being certified by department chairs as being identical to other courses per the current practice, it didn’t seem a cap would be necessary. A point was made that online courses will not be indicated on transcripts because only the delivery method differs, not the course content. It was also clarified that dual-campus (Edwards/KULC) courses will be treated the same way.

After additional discussion about some differences in delivery method and timeframes for completion between online College courses and KUCE, Assoc. Professor Mort thanked the committee for their feedback and recommended approval of the ATMO 310 course. A motion to approve was made, seconded, and unanimously approved.

1b. Curricular Changes Motion to File:
LA&S 450

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS FOR APPROVAL:

Change of Major Requirements for: BA Biology, BA Biochemistry, BA Biochemistry, BA Microbiology, BS Microbiology, BS Biology – Cellular, Organismal, Genetics, Ecology & Evolutionary Biology, and Neurology emphases.

A move to approve all Degree Requirements was made, seconded, and unanimously approved.

C. ACADEMIC STANDARDS – No Report.

OLD BUSINESS

Professor Madden began the continued discussion of Admissions to Majors Requirements and Non-Major BGS issues. Discussion covered the following:

Estimate of the number of students who might pursue the non-major BGS, with the impact those numbers would mean for the foreign language departments and the financing for additional sections of foreign language courses. That led to the Dean’s proposal to change the nature of the courses in the “World Language/Culture Requirement” to combine foreign language and culture courses, which might mean larger sections could be offered. Concerns were raised about whether or not additional resources would be required but the thought was that this could be covered with existing resources. The proposed courses would have a lighter language requirement. The availability of Title VI funding for these type of courses was also discussed.

Assoc. Professor Earnhart proposed a longer requirement for the world culture courses if students chose not to take a full year of foreign language, with overall good feedback, but with the same concern raised about availability of foreign language courses, and whether or not that would fill world culture courses beyond capacity.

Other concerns raised were about the possibility of the non-major BGS degree being weighted more heavily with culture courses than with courses in the other areas, the difficulty in being able to effectively administer the various proposals, and additional discussion about the purpose of this degree.

Discussion moved into admissions requirements to majors. Assoc. Prof. Banwart discussed the feasibility of enforcing prerequisites, along with being able to manage enforcement of a time limit to complete prerequisites. Other areas discussed were the feasibility of enforcing sequential offering of courses; suggested, but not mandatory, guidelines for departments such as standardized calculation of GPA and use of the course repeat policy; and allowing departments to make a case for competitive criteria. It was noted during the discussion that it should be clear which student will fall under the new and which under the old standards and that would be based on term of initial enrollment.

Following the discussion, a motion was made and seconded to approve the proposal pending final language, and Professor Madden will circulate a new draft prior to the next meeting on January 27, 2009.

The meeting was adjourned at 12:30 p.m.

SURVEY OF JAPANESE FILM  3 H
This course surveys the major developments in and critical approaches to twentieth-century Japanese film. Focusing mostly on narrative films, Survey of Japanese Film introduces students to basic methodological issues in Japanese film history—especially questions of narrative, genre, stardom, and authorship. We examine Japanese cinema as an institution located within specific contexts while focus on the ways in which this institution shapes gender, race, class, ethnic and national identities. This course examines how patterns of distribution, exhibition, as well as of reception influence film aesthetics and film style over the last century. Through secondary readings, lectures, and discussions students will critically examine how Japanese cinema as an institution both responds to and intervenes in the social, cultural, and political history of twentieth century Japan. May be taken as FMS 715, but with additional requirements.

FMS 316
CINEMAS OF THE SOUTHERN CONE: ARGENTINA, CHILE, AND URUGUAY  3 H
This course will examine the cinemas of three neighboring South American countries to find similar themes and some differences between them historically, politically, and culturally. Themes will include: gender and nation, political repression during dictatorship, globalization and the cinema, youth culture in the Southern Cone, and representations of race and ethnicity, immigration and identity in contemporary cinema. Other themes in common are financing issues, such as co-production agreements, film production under the regional trade pact Mercosur and issues of circulation, distribution and marketing of national films. Most films will be feature length narrative, but a few documentaries will be shown. May be taken as FMS 716, but with additional requirements.

ADAPTATION FROM STAGE TO SCREEN  3 H
In an increasingly global media economy, adaptation study offers an enterprising model for the cross-pollination of texts across historical, national, and cultural boundaries. Although this course focuses more specifically on adaptations and adaptation processes involving theatrical events and cinematic properties, this larger view should be kept in mind. The course will consist of readings, screenings, and presentations by faculty in the Department Film and Media Studies and the Department of Theatre addressing theoretical issues, case studies, and intertextual considerations, and an historical overview of theatre-film interaction.

CYBERCULTURE STUDIES  3 H
Historically there has been a tendency to approach new media technologies and their proliferation as either utopic or dystopic. Cyberculture studies has been no exception. Students will work toward a comprehensive understanding of cyberculture as emergent computer networks forming around and constructing entertainment, knowledge, business, community, and identity. Cyberculture will be examined as the constant (re)organizing of virtual and physical relationships as well as the reorganization of media production, distribution and consumption. The variety of opportunities for computer-mediated human interaction such as social networks, virtual worlds, blogs, and games will be examined as cyberculture transposes online and offline relationships and practices.

EXPERIMENTAL PRODUCTION  3 H
Students will produce experimental film and video projects, including installation art and performance art pieces, in both collaborative and a collaborative production modes. Practical production aspects of historical experimental works will be studied, with emphasis on creation of works inspired by these earlier artists and their work. Unorthodox video and film production concepts and modes will also be studied and used in the creation of original works. The incorporation of experimental elements in the creation of mainstream works, and the creation of such projects, will also be a key area of study and experimentation. By pushing their individual creative limits, students will gain an appreciation for the experimental film and video genre, as well as an expansion of their production skills. Prerequisite: FMS 275 and consent of instructor.

BROADCAST DOCUMENTARY PRODUCTION  3 H
This is a hands-on production course in which students will research, plan and produce short-form non-fiction documentaries. The class is dedicated to training young professionals in the principles, skills, techniques, habits and practices of documentary production. We will focus also on the aesthetics of our craft and the documentary form. The objective is to ground students in the fundamental skills of good non-fiction storytelling—conceptualization, research, story structure, theme development, writing, producing and directing. The goal is the production of several short-form compositions (videos) where storytelling is employed to communicate a concept or idea effectively. Students will form into teams to research, develop and produce a course-long short-form documentary. Prerequisite: FMS 275 and consent of instructor.

MUSIC VIDEO PRODUCTION 3 H
This course will cover elements of the history, aesthetics, and business of music video and music video production. Students will view and discuss many different types of music videos, and will learn how to classify and critique these videos in a professional manner. Students will gain familiarity with the genres, themes, forms, and iconography of music video; an understanding of the place of music video in media culture; an exploration of the ideological, cultural, and historical contexts of music video; and an ability to create or assist in the creation of professional-quality music videos. Prerequisite: FMS 275 and consent of instructor.

CUBAN CINEMA 3 H
This course explores Cuban cinema from 1959 to the present day. Special attention will be paid to the representations of Cuban history, cultural politics, and the political-economic conditions of production in Cuba. In addition, the Cuban-American community and their contributions or reactions to Cuban film will be discussed. Cuban cinema will also be studied as part of the larger pan-Latin American film movement called the New Latin American Cinema. Through readings, lectures, discussion, and viewing Cuban films, the class will examine a variety of topics related to Cuban cinema, history, and modern day reality.

APPLIED AND INTERACTIVE THEATRE 3 H
This course is an exploration of interactive drama techniques and practices of the evolving field of applied theatre. The tools of applied theatre serve varied purposes and are being used around the world for community-building, personal empowerment, to address social and political issues, and to strengthen communication skills. The class will work specifically on community-based dialogue and classroom situations that students and professors encounter in their daily lives.

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN FILMMAKERS 3 H
This course examines films made by women around the world. Mainstream and independent fiction, documentary, and experimental works will be screened and discussed. The objectives of the course are: 1) to learn the variety of films made by women and the conditions of their production, distribution, and reception. 2) to interrogate the idea of women’s cinema as ‘counter-cinema’. We will acquire tools for analyzing films in terms of economic, aesthetic, cultural, and political circumstance by women of different countries, classes, races, ethnicities, genders, and sexual preferences.

Proposed New Concentration: Arabic and Islamic Studies for the Department of African & African-American Studies (AAAS)

PROPOSAL

The Department of African & African-American Studies wishes to create a new concentration in Arabic and Islamic Studies. Currently, there are two concentrations for African & African-American Studies majors—one in African Studies, the other in African-American Studies. Arabic and Islamic courses are currently taught under the umbrella of African Studies. What follows is for a new concentration in Arabic and Islamic Studies to compliment the existing two concentrations.

Requirements for the B.A. or B.G.S. major in Arabic and Islamic Studies concentration are 33 credits, distributed as follows:
Students must take and pass at least two first- and second-year general education courses from two of the following departments: American Studies, anthropology, communication studies, economics, English, environmental studies, geography, history, history of art, linguistics, philosophy, political science, religious studies, sociology, or theatre and film. The Department may consider substitutions. These do not count toward the major.

Students must also take:

- AAAS 102 Introduction to Arabic and Islamic Studies
- AAAS 349 Islam (same as REL 350)
- AAAS 433 Islamic Literature
- AAAS 543 Language and Culture in Arabic-Speaking Communities
- AAAS 496 Field Experience OR 690 Investigation and Conference
- AAAS 550 Senior Seminar
- Five relevant elective courses numbered above 300

(Courses available for elective hours include but are not limited to the following:
- AAAS 320 Anthropology of Islam
- AAAS 320 Business and Political Culture in the Arab World
- AAAS 320 Peoples and Cultures of North Africa and the Middle East
- AAAS 320 Religion, Power, and Sexuality in Arab Society
- AAAS 415 Women and Islam
- AAAS 432 Francophone African Literature
- AAAS 435 Muslim Women’s Autobiography
- AAAS 445 Arab Thought and Identity
- AAAS 450 Popular Culture in the Muslim World
- AAAS 504 Directed Language Study I: Arabic
- AAAS 505 Directed Language Study II: Arabic
- AAAS 542 History of Islam in Africa
- AAAS 545 Unveiling the Veil
- AAAS 552 Classical Islamic Literature
- AAAS 650 Sufism (same as REL 650)
- AAAS 657 Gender in Islam and Society (same as REL 657)

B.A. majors in this concentration also must take 16 hours of an African language (Arabic, Hausa, Kiswahili, or Wolof).

Honors: For graduation with honors, a student must maintain a minimum overall grade-point average of 3.25, and 3.5 in the major, and must complete 3 additional hours by enrolling in AAAS 695. AAAS 695 is evaluated by a committee composed of the instructor plus two other faculty members approved by the department chair. An affirmative recommendation by this committee is essential for graduation with honors, provided that the other requirements have been met. A student who plans to graduate with honors must file a declaration of intent form with the departmental honors coordinator, preferably during his or her junior year, but no later than at enrollment for the final undergraduate semester.

JUSTIFICATION

There has been a steady increase in Arabic and Islamic courses taught in the Department and at KU since 2000. The number of students taking these courses has also greatly increased. As the number grew, students have demanded majoring in Arabic and Islamic Studies as an area of concentration. In the past, the Department had met such demand by supporting student petitions to CUSA for a special degree approval in the concentration. Since last year, such special degree requests by our students have been turned down by CUSA, with the advice that the Department has enough courses within it to offer that major. It is this accommodation that this new major offers. Moreover, the Dean did approve a major in Arabic and Islamic Studies as part of the strategic plan of AAAS. This, therefore, is also an implementation of a College-approved strategic plan. It is a forward-looking concentration that prepares our students for the important roles of Islam and Arabic in American and world politics, economy, business, religion and culture. Except for one course, AAAS 102 Introduction to Arabic and Islam, all the courses listed here are already being offered by our Department and at KU. AAAS is ready to implement this concentration as early as Spring 2009, if CUSA so approves.
